HISTORY OF THE LEGISLATION:

A. STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS:

There still exists in different parts of the country a system of usury under which the debtor or his descendants or dependants have to work for the creditor without reasonable wages or with no wages in order to extinguish the debt. At times, several generations work under bondage for the repayment of a paltry sum which had been taken by some remote ancestor. The interest rates are exhorbitant and such bondage cannot be interpreted as the result of any legitimate contract or agreement. The system implies the infringement of the basic human rights and destruction of the dignity of human labour.

2. Article 23 (1) of the Constitution prohibits "begar" and other similar forms of forced labour and further provides that any contravention of the said prohibition shall be an offence punishable in accordance with law. Article 35 (a) (ii) of the Constitution not only confers the power on Parliament to provide for punishment for the contravention of the said provisions of Article 23 (1) but expressly takes away the power of the State Legislature to make any legislation with regard to the said matter. Accordingly, the Bonded Labour System (Abolition) Ordinance, 1975, was promulgated by the President on the 24th October, 1975. By the said Ordinance, the bonded labour system was abolished and bounded labourers were freed and discharged from any obligation to render any bonded labour and their bonded debts were also extinguished. The Ordinance further affords protection to the freed bonded labourers from eviction from their homestead. Contraventions of the provisions of the Ordinance have been made offences punishable in accordance with law. Provisions for the follow-up measures and economic rehabilitation of the freed bonded labourers have also been made in the Ordinance.

3. The Bill seeks to replace the said Ordinance.

B. ACT 19 OF 1976

The Bill, received the assent of THE HON'BLE PRESIDENT on 9th February, 1976.

An Act to provide for the abolition of bonded labour system with a view to preventing the economic and physical exploitation of the weaker sections of the people and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.

This Act may be called THE BONDED LABOUR SYSTEM (ABOLITION) ACT, 1976.

It extends to the whole of India.

It shall be deemed to have come into force on the 25th day of October, 1975.

C. COMMENTS:

to protect the workers there from, by separating the process which produces such temperatures from the workroom, by insulating the hot parts or by other effective means.

(2) The State Government may prescribe a standard of adequate ventilation and reasonable temperature for any factory or class or description of factories or parts thereof and direct that 18[proper measuring instruments, at such places and in such position as may be specified, shall be provided and such records, as may be prescribed, shall be maintained.] 34[(3) If it appears to the Chief Inspector that excessively high temperatures in any factory can be reduced by the adoption of suitable measures, he may, without prejudice to the rules made under sub-section (2), serve on the occupier, an order in writing specifying the measures which, in his opinion, should be adopted, and requiring them to be carried out before a specified date.]

14. Dust and fume

   (iii) any part of a stock-bar which projects beyond the head stock of a lathe; and
   (iv) unless they are in such position or of such construction as to be safe to every person employed in the factory as they would be if they were securely fenced, the following, namely,-
      (a) every part of an electric generator, a motor or rotary convertor;
      (b) every part of transmission machinery; and
      (c) every dangerous part of any other machinery;

shall be securely fenced by safeguards of substantial construction which [shall be constantly maintained and kept in position] while the parts of machinery they are fencing are in motion or in use:

[PROVIDED that for the purpose of determining whether any part of machinery is in such position or is of such construction as to be safe as aforesaid, account shall not be taken of any occasion when-

   (i) it is necessary to make an examination of any part of the machinery aforesaid while it is in motion or, as a result of such examination, to carry out lubrication or other adjusting operation while the machinery is in motion, being an examination or operation which it is necessary to be carried out while that part of the machinery is in motion, or
   (ii) in the case of any part of a transmission machinery used in such process as may be prescribed (being a process of a continuous nature the carrying on of which shall be, or is likely to be, substantially interfered with by the stoppage of that part of the machinery), it is necessary to make an examination of such part of the machinery while it is in motion or, as a result of such examination, to carry out any mounting or shipping of belts or lubrication or other adjusting operation while the machinery is in motion, and such examination or operation is made or carried out in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 22.

(2) The State Government may by rules prescribe such further precautions as it may consider necessary in respect of any particular machinery or part thereof, or exempt, subject to such condition as may be prescribed, for securing the safety of the workers, any particular machinery or part thereof from the provisions of this section.

(2) No woman or young person shall be allowed to clean, lubricate or adjust any part of a prime mover or of any transmission machinery while the prime mover or transmission machinery is in motion, or to clean, lubricate or adjust any part of any machine if the cleaning, lubrication or adjustment thereof would expose the woman or young person to risk of injury from any moving part either of that machine or of any adjacent machinery.

(3) The State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, prohibit, in any specified factory or class or description of factories, the cleaning, lubricating or adjusting by any person of specified parts of machinery when those parts are in motion.

ppm$^3$ Parts of vapour or gas per million parts of contaminated air by volume at 25°C and 760 torr. (mm of mercury)

Mg/ m$^2$ milligrams of substance per cubic metre of air.

* Not more than 4 times a day with at least 60 min. interval between successive exposures.

 $mg/ m^3 = \frac{\text{Molecular weight} \times ppm}{24.45}$

C Denotes ceiling limit.

Skin denotes potential contribution to the overall exposure by the cutaneous route including mucous membranes and eye.
S.C. denotes suspected human carcinogens.

It is hereby enacted as follows:-

CHAPTER I Preliminary

1. Short title extent and operation. This Act may be called the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act, 1948.

[(2) It extends to the whole of the State of Maharashtra.]

(3) It shall in the first instance come into force in the local areas specified in schedule I:

(5) The 5 [State] Government may also by a like notification direct that all or any of the provisions of this Act shall come into force in such local areas having population of less than twenty-five thousand as may be specified in the notification.

NOTES
Whether stands repealed by Motor Transport Workers Act, 1961 - According to ordinary principles of interpretation of statutes, repeal by implication is not favoured - None of the provisions of Bombay Shops and Establishments' Act can be said to be conflicting or inconsistent with the provisions of Motor Transport Workers Act - The former does not stand repealed by the latter.

Kishorbhai Khamanchand Goyal v. State of Gujarat & Anr. 1996 II CLR 266 (Guj.H.C.)

2. This Act was extended to the rest of the State of Maharashtra by Mah. 26 of 1961, s.2.

3. Sub-sec. (2) was substituted by Mah. 26 of 1961, s.3(a).

4. This proviso was added, ibid s.3(b).

5. This word was substituted for the word "Provincial" by the Adaptation of Laws Order, 1950.

2. Definitions.-In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,-

(1) "Apprentice" means a person who is employed/whether on payment of wages or not, for the purpose of being trained in any trade, craft or employment in any establishment;

(2) "Child" means a person who has not completed his fifteenth year of age; but does not include a person who has, before the date of commencement of the Bombay Shops and Establishments (Amendment) Act, 1977, completed his twelfth year of age even though he has not completed his fifteenth year of age, if he is on the day immediately preceding the said date an employee in any establishment to which this Act applies;

7 (3) "Closed" means not open for the service of any customer, or for any business, of the establishment, or for work, by or with the help of any employee, of or connected with the establishment;

(4) "Commercial establishment" means an establishment which carries on, any business, trade or profession or any work in connection with, or incidental or ancillary to, any business, trade or profession and includes establishment of any legal practitioner, medical practitioner, architect, engineer, accountant, tax consultant or any other technical or professional consultant and also includes] a society registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1866 (XXI of 1860), and a charitable or other trust, whether registered or not, which carries on for purposes of gain or not] any business, trade or profession or work in connection with or incidental or ancillary thereto but does not include a factory, shop, residential hotel, restaurant, eating house, theatre or other place of public amusement or entertainment;

NOTES
There is nothing in the definition of section 2(4) of "commercial establishment" which indicates that before an establishment can become a commercial establishment it must have a certain fixed place or abode, premises or location from where it operates. The idea of premises is not implicit in the definition of "Commercial establishment".

The organisation to be a commercial establishment must not only be an organised activity for carrying on any business, trade or profession but the activity must be carried in a commercial manner. If these two conditions are satisfied it is wholly irrelevant that such an activity of which there is an employer and in which there are employees will be a commercial establishment only because it has no particular premises from which it operates.

A sales organisation with a regional officer at the head of a region and having salesmen in different parts of the State, the organisation having no specific office or its own, would nonetheless be a commercial establishment if the organisation carries on any business, trade or profession, etc. (1973) I LLJ 447 Guj.

Commercial establishment is not only an establishment which carries on trade but also business, whether for the purpose of gain or not. The profit or intention to make profit is not an essential part of the legal definition of trade or business. Business includes trade. The occupation followed by the applicant can well come within the purview of the word "business" as well as "trade" and the applicant's premises is a "commercial establishment" as defined in section 2(4) (1971) II LLJ 31 (Bom.H.C.)

Establishment of a Legal Practitioner - Amendment to S.2(4) of 1948 Act effected by S.2 (b) of the amending Maharashtra Act 64 of 1977 sought to enlarge the definition of "Commercial establishment" by including the establishment of a legal practitioner, architect, engineer, accountant, tax consultant and certain other categories. But, there is no common properties or characteristics to be found in other commercial establishments and the establishment of a legal practitioner. There is no rational bases for herding them together and the conclusion that they have been brought together arbitrarily is inescapable. The inclusion of the establishment of a legal practitioner in commercial establishment does not answer the test of reasonableness and the inclusion would therefore, be violative of Art. 14 of the Constitution.

Consequently, the provisions of the amending Act (Mah. Act 64 of 1977) insofar as they include the establishment of a legal practitioner in the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act, 1948 are struck down. Narendra Kesharichand Fuladi v. The State of Maharashtra 1985 ILLN512(Bom.H.C.).

Commercial Establishment - The firm Khanna Construction House has put up a building and parts thereof have been let out to various business concerns paying rent which totals Rs.88000/- per month. The occupants are tenants of the firm. The firm has employed workmen to provide various facilities and amenities to the occupants and those visiting the premises in their occupation. The Labour Court held that the business being carried on by the firm would amount to industry and there is no error in this finding. Commercial establishment as per S.2(4) of the Act includes an establishment which carries on any business. The very size of the establishment and the quantum of rent being recovered implies that the firm is in the business of providing accommodation plus service to residents who, in consideration thereof pay rent to it. - The enterprise amounts to "commercial establishment" within the meaning of the expression in the Act. D.B. Khade v. Ramsingh Jaysing 1986 (53) FLR 378 = 1986 I LLN 771 (Bom.H.C.)

The correct test of finding whether a professional activity falls within the definition 2(4) of the Act is whether the activity is systematically and habitually undertaken for production or distribution of goods or for rendering material services to the community with the help of employees in the manner of trade or business in such an undertaking. It is also necessary to construe the word, "profession" in section 2(4).

It is clear that; a professional activity must be an activity carried on by an individual by his personal skill and intelligence. There is a fundamental distinction, therefore, between a professional activity and an activity of a commercial character and unless the profession carried on by the appellant also partakes of the character of a commercial nature the applicant's dispensary cannot fall within the ambit of section 2(4) of the Act.

Dispensary would fall within the definition of section 2(4) if the activity of the appellant is organised in the manner in which a trade or business is generally organized or arranged and if the activity is systematically or habitually undertaken for rendering material services to the community at large or a part of such community with the help of the employees and if such an activity involves co-operation of employees.
To put it differently the manner in which the activity in question is organised or arranged; the condition of the co-operation between the employer and the employee being necessary for its success and its object being to render material service to the community, can be regarded as some of the features which render carrying on of a professional activity to fall within the ambit of section 2(4) of the Act. Tested in the light of these principles, the case of the doctor does not fall within the purview of the Act. Devendra Surti v. State of Gujarat (1969) II LLJ 116 - 1969 LIC 245.

The ordinary meaning of an establishment given in the dictionary as equable to a place where one is permanently fixed for residence or business; such as an office or place of business with its fixtures, is not a safe guide for interpretation of the expression commercial establishment. The criteria to decide whether a particular establishment is a commercial establishment is only to find whether a regular merchantile activity is carried on by a person on behalf of another or by an individual himself with the assistance of other and whether such activity is regular and is commercial in its outlook and purpose. If such a meaning is attributable to an activity in a particular area a fixed place or premises for carrying on such a commercial activity is not the sine qua non in order to make such an overall integrated operation as one of a part of his own abode for commercial activities connected with and incidental to the carried on by a person engaged in a commercial establishment. It is not disputed that the employee is carrying on the business of his employer but in his own home. The utilisation employer's trade is by itself an incident that there is commercial establishment. Laxmi Vishnu Textile Mills Ltd. v. Balakrishnan (1978) 52 FJR 104 (Mad.H.C.)

There is nothing in the definition of "commercial establishment" which indicates that before an establishment could be a commercial establishment it should have a certain fixed place of abode, premises or location from where it operates. The act is for the benefit of the "persons employed" in shops and establishments. On reorganisation of an establishment its head office was abolished and some clerical staff from the head office came to be attached to a factory of the establishment. The authorities under the Shops Act sought to apply the Act to these employees treating them as "clerical department" of the factory. Held that when it was not necessary for an establishment to have a definite location or abode even in order to be a "commercial establishment" it was not necessary that a department should function at a separate identifiable place. The functional division of work might constitute a department. There was a clerical department in the head office before it was abolished. The same work that was being done at the head office was being done from the factory premises by the clerical employees. These employees would therefore, constitute a "clerical department" of the factory and Shops Act would be applicable to them. Guest Keen Williams Ltd. v. State of West Bengal (1977) 51 FJR 267 (Cal.-D.B).

The notification which seeks to cover under the Shops Act a Maternity Home run by medical practitioner is beyond the powers conferred by the act and therefore invalid. There is no evidence to show that the organisation is nothing more than consisting of employees who aid the respondent in her medical practice and the entire clientele depends on her personal skill and knowledge. The State of Maharashtra v. Smt. Dhanalaxmi V. Meisher 1981 APS L.C, 97.

Amendment to S.2(4) of 1948 Act effected by S.2(b) of the Amending Maharashtra Act 64 of 1977 so as to include establishment of legal practitioner in the definition of "Commercial establishment" is unreasonable, irrational and arbitrary and also violative of Art. 14 of the Constitution.

The position of law as it stood in respect of the Shops Act prior to the amendment effected by Mah. Act 64 of 1977 was that the professional activity of a legal practitioner could not be included in the definition of 'commercial establishment' under section 2(4) of the unamended Act. This exclusion was made by the Courts on principle of interpretation. In Sakharam Narayan Kha^ekar v. City of Nagpur Corporation 1963 Mah.L.J. 533 the Court took the view that a lawyer who carries on his profession as an advocate is not an-'employer' within the meaning of S.2(7) of the Shops Act and he is not liable to have any establishment registered under S.7 of the Act. An activity to be a profession must be one carried on by an individual by his personal skill, intelligence and dependent on individual characteristics and it is the personal skill, intelligence, study, integrity which is a core of professional activity.. The very concept of activity which can justly be called commercial activity, must imply profession of law carried on by an advocate in any manner or to any extent cannot be said to partake of commercial character or to be a commercial activity. The activity of an advocate carrying profession of law is radically distinguished from any other commercial activity. The role of an advocate in practising and discharging his duties is participation in administration justice, which is a regal function of the state.

Amending Mah. Act 64 of 1977 sought to enlarge the definition of 'Commercial establishment' by including the establishment of a legal practitioner, architect, engineer, accountant, tax-consultant and certain other categories. But, there are no common properties of characteristics to be found on other commercial establishments and the establishment of legal practitioner which have been herded together. There is no rational basis for herding them together and the conclusion that they have been brought together arbitrarily is inescapable. Therefore, the inclusion of the establishment of a legal practitioner in the context of the connotation of commercial establishment does not answer the test of reasonableness and the inclusion would therefore, be violative of Art. 14 of the Constitution of India also on the ground of unreasonableness, irrationality and arbitrariness.

Consequently, the provisions of the amending Act (Mah. Act 64 of 1977) insofar as the included the establishment of a legal practitioner in the Bombay Shops & Establishment Act 1948 are struck down. Narindra Keshrichand Fuladi v. The State of Maharashtra 1986 I CLR 15 (BoT H.C.)

Employees’ State Insurance Act, 1948 - S.I sub-sections (4) and (5) - The place where the petitioner has been carrying on business is a shop and therefore the Act is applicable to it.

The petitioner, a partnership firm carrying on the business of playing music on occasions, such as, marriages and other social functions, questioned its liability to pay contribution under the provisions of the Act on two grounds (i) that the place where it was carrying on business was not a shop and (ii) that its business being one of intermittent or seasonal character the Act could not be extended to its business. The petitioner's petition under S.75 of the Act being rejected by the Employees' Insurance Court, Jaipur and the petitioner's appeal under S.82 of the Act being dismissed by the High Court of Rajasthan, the petitioner has filed this Special Leave Petition under Art. 136 of the Constitution of India.

Held: The place where the petitioner has been carrying on business is a shop. The Employees' State Insurance Act is applicable to it by virtue of the notification dated September 20, 1975 issued under sub-section (5) of S.I of the Act by the Government of Rajasthan extending all the provisions of the Act to shops employing 20 or more persons. The first contention of the petitioner, therefore, fails. The second contention of the petitioner is that as its business is of intermittent or seasonal character the Act could not be extended to the business. There is no much substance in this contention too. The petitioner cannot rely on sub-section (4) of S.I of the Act as that sub-section refers to factories only. In this case we arc concerned with a shop and not a factory. There is no merit in this Special Leave Petition. Mis. Hindu Jea Band., Jaipur v. The. Regional Director, E.S.I.C., Jaipur 1987 I CLR 228 (S.C.).

A lawyer who caries on his profession as an advocate cannot answer the definition of an "employer" in Section 2(7) of the Act. Sakharam v. City of Nagpur Corporation 65 Bom.L.R. 627.

The Office of Chartered Accountant with article clerks and one salaries ordinary clerk is not a commercial establishment so as to attract the provisions of the Act. N.E. Merchant v. State 1968 LIC 1034 - AIR Born. 282 1968 Cri.LJ 1041.

The accused owned small workshop in which he employed 3 workmen. The method of his doing business was to go to the local mills, to collect orders from them for small parts of machinery, to manufacture those parts in his workshop, to deliver the parts to mills when ready, and to collect the money therefore from the mills. No buying or selling was done on the premises. A question arose whether the workshop was a shop, it was held that the workshop in question was not a shop within the meaning of Section 2(27) of the Act. Kalidas Dhanjibhai v. State of Bombay LR. 57 Bot. 703 (S.C.).

Where a works place is mainly used in connection with the business of rendering services to customers which is conducted on the premises, it falls within the inclusive part of the definition of the word "shop" in Section 2(27) of the Act, Homi Bhajiwala v. State 62 Bom.LR1021.

NOTES

The cumulative effect of all the provisions of the Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1970, shows that the nationalised banks are independent corporate entities having their own common seal and succession. Though the Central Government has control over the activities of the nationalised bank and the entire capital stands vested with it the bank is not an undertaking or an establishment of the Central Government. Entries in Schedule II of the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act, 1948 have exempted offices of the Reserve Bank and the State* Bank from the provisions of the Act showing that without specific exemptions the provisions of the Act are applicable to those banks. There is no such specific exemption for nationalised banks. A nationalised bank, therefore, cannot claim exemption from the provisions of the Shops and Establishments Act and its failure to renew its registration is an offence punishable with fine.

Corporation of the City of Nagpur v. Gopal Shastri (1977) 50 FJR 231 (Bom.H.C.)
Notification is a conditional legislation - Initially the establishments of the Food Corporation of India in Maharashtra were subject to the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act as a whole. However, as a result of notification issued by the State Government these establishments are totally exempted from the provisions of the Act from 28.3.1985. The employees challenged the notification on the ground that they were not given hearing despite the fact that it affected their vital right;'

Held: The notification constituted a piece of legislation and in the matter of law no one could insist upon a notice of hearing before the law is formulated. There is nothing in S.4 to compel the inference that a notice and hearing were required, once it is held that the notification constituted conditional legislation. Objection held not legal. Transport and Dock Workers’ Union v. Food Corporation of India 1986 II LLN 681 (Bot. H.C.).

5. Application of Act to other establishments and persons.- (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the [State] Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare any establishment or class of establishments to which, or any person or class of persons to whom, this Act or any of the provisions thereof does not for the time being apply, to be an establishment or class of establishments or a person or class of persons to which or whom this Act or any provisions thereof with such modifications or adaptation as may in the opinion of the [State] Government be necessary shall apply from such date as may be specified in the notification.

(2) On such declaration under sub-section (1), any such establishment or class of establishments or such person or class of persons shall be deemed to be an establishment or class of establishments to which, or to be an employee or class of employees to whom, this Act, applies and all or any of the provisions of this Act with such adaptation or modification as may be specified in such declaration, shall apply to such establishment or class of establishments or to such employee or class of employees.

NOTES
A notification issued under Section 5(1) of the Act is made to apply to a class of workers who are not in the direct employment of the employer, the Notification itself being a deeming provision the concept of employment shall also be deemed in case of such workers. Being a special legislation, court cannot whittle down the full amplitude of the Section (1968) 70 Bom.LR. 817.

Section 5 is intended to include a one man shop.
Accordingly, where the owner of a one-man-shop keeps the shop open for business after 9 P.m. he renders himself liable to punishment under Section 30 read with Section 5 of the Act, Emperor v. Mohammed 43 Bom.LR 952.

6. Suspension of all or any of the Provisions of this Act.-The [State] Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, suspend the operation of all or any of the provisions of this Act for such period and subject to such conditions as it deems fit on account of any holidays or occasions.

NOTES

A place where services are rendered to a customer is a shop for purpose of the Act and the services may be of different kinds. But it cannot be said that where different kinds of services are rendered for every kind of service which the employer chooses to embark upon after he has registered his establishment, the employer must submit necessary information under section 7 for a fresh registration. If his establishment is already registered and he chooses widen the nature of his activities in the same establishment, in such a case it is difficult to see how section 7(1) which contemplates an initial registration of the establishment, required to be complied with on every subsequent occasion when the employer embarks a new venture on the same premises in addition to the original business.

It cannot be said that where different kinds of services are rendered in a shop for every kind of service which the employer chooses to embark upon after he has registered his establishment he must submit necessary information for fresh registration under section 7.
What is required to be registered under Section 7 is the establishment which the petitioner had already registered. If he widens his activities in the same establishment no fresh registration is essential. All that is required of the applicant is to intimate the authorities fact that he has started another business in the same premises under section 8 of the Act.

If an establishment is already registered and the employer chooses to widen the nature of his activities in the same establishment in such a case section 7(1) which contemplates an initial registration of the establishment, is not required to be complied with on every subsequent occasion when the employer embarks on a new venture on the same premises in addition to the original business, 1969 MLJ 25 (Bom.H.C.).

The appellant, dealing in tea, had in the year 1968, godowns wherein tea was stored. One salesman used to take tea pockets on a pushcart manually operated and sales were offered from door to door. The appellant was prosecuted for not registering the said establishments under the Act. The challenge is to the constitutional validity of the order bringing the appellant within the Act. Dismissal of writ petition by the High Court has led to this appeal.

Without deciding the challenge, the Supreme Court had closed the matter in view of the fact that about 3 decades are to over shortly. The practice of operating pushcart for selling tea from door to door no longer exists. The prosecution is also now stale. In the circumstances learned counsel for the State was fair enough to state that appellant would not be prosecuted for the alleged lapses. As such the appeal is disposed of.

8. Change to be communicated to Inspector. It shall be the duty of an employer to notify to the Inspector, in prescribed form, “any change in any of the particulars contained in the statement submitted under section 7 within such period, after the change has taken place, as the State Government may prescribe in respect of any establishment or class of establishments]. The Inspector shall, on receiving such notice and the prescribed fees and on being satisfied about its correctness, make the change in the register of establishments in accordance with such notice and shall amend the registration certificate or issue a fresh registration certificate, if necessary.

9. Closing of establishment to be communicated to Inspector. The employer shall, within ten days on his closing the establishment, notify to the Inspector in writing accordingly. The Inspector shall, on receiving the information and being satisfied about its correctness, remove such establishment from the register of establishments and cancel the registration certificate:

the beginning of the year his intention to close the shop or commercial establishment on a public holiday within the meaning of the Negotiable Instruments Act 1881, (XXVI 1881)]

(2) It shall not be lawful for an employer to call an employee at, or for employee to go to, his shop or commercial establishment or any other place for work in connection with the business of his shop or commercial establishment on a day on which such shop or commercial establishment remains closed.

(3) No deduction shall be made from the wages of any employee in a shop or commercial establishment on account of any day on which it has remained closed under this section. If any employee is employed on a daily wage, he shall nonetheless be paid his daily wage for the day on which such shop or commercial establishment remains closed. If any employee is paid a piece rated wage, he shall nonetheless be paid his wage for the day on which the shop or commercial establishment remains closed, at a rate equivalent to the daily average of his wages for the days on which he has actually worked during the six days preceding such closed day, exclusive of any earning in respect of overtime:

[Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to any person whose total period of continuous employment is less than six days.

NOTES
Both the employer and Employee are prohibited against service to customer or for doing any business of the establishment on a closed day and therefore owner of establishment giving service to his customers on a weekly holiday is guilty of contravention of section 18-(1) even though there were no employees.

Jethalal Valand v. Vipinchandra Gandhi 1971 LIC 803 /12 Guj. LR 58.

Under section 18(3) an employee is entitled to wage for the day for which the establishment remains closed in any week under section 18(1) of the Act, provided he has been employed for six days continuously in that week.

The question whether a worker was employed for six days continuously in any week will have to be decided in each case on the facts and circumstances of that case.

Under section 18(3) of the Act the only condition to be satisfied about the the period of employment and not about having worked a particular number of hours in the week or on each of the six days other than the closed days,

The effect of exempting power-loom establishments from the applicability of section 18(1) of the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act is that they need not remain closed on any day of the week but could remain open on all the 365 days of the year. If no special provision were made for employees other than daily wage employees or piece-rated employees, they would have to work for all the 365 days unless they themselves took a holiday subject to deduction from their wages. No such considerations would arise in the case of daily wage employees or piece-rated employees since they are only to be paid either according to the number of days they worked, or the amount of work they turned out. No provision at all was required to be made for providing a weekly holiday for them. That being the basic distinction between the daily wage employees and piece-rated employees on the one hand and other employees on the other, a special provision had to be made in column (3) of Entry No. 59 in Schedule II only in respect of such other employees, that they should be paid for weekly holiday. The purpose of giving them a day off without affecting their fixed earnings could thus be achieved. Clearly therefore the word deductions, in column (3) of Entry No. 59 has been used in order to restrict the applicability of that limitation in the manner stated above.

In view of this, the piece-rated employee in the power-loom industry is not entitled to be paid for weekly holidays, [38 A. Application of Act VIII of 1923 to employees of establishment.-]The provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923 (VIII of 1923), and the rules made from time to time thereunder, shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to employees of an establishment to which this Act applies, as if they were workmen within the meaning of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923.

NOTES

S.38-A - Compensation can be claimed under Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923.

In this case, a Clerk in the establishment of Maharashtra State Electricity Board to whom admittedly the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act is applicable claimed compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923 for the accidental injury sustained by him arising out of and in the course of his employment. The point is whether he is entitled to put up such a claim.

Their Lordships considered the scope and extent of S.38-A of the Bombay Act and held that the claim was quite legally maintainable. Under S.38A of the Bombay Act, the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923 and the Rules made thereunder shall 'mutatis mutandis' apply to the employees of an establishment to which Bombay Act applies, as if they were workmen within the meaning of the 1923 Act. This is a legislative device adopted by the legislature to enact the provisions of 1923 Act with reference to the employees covered under the Bombay Act. The definition workman under 1923 Act does not cover the clerical cadre, but the fiction created under S.38A would cover all categories of employees of the respondent Board except those who are exempted under Sch.II of the Act.

Yasudev Anant Kulkarni v. Executive Engineer, M.S.E.B. 1994 II CLR 172 (Bom.-D.B.)

38-B. Application of Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act to establishments.-The provisions of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders)
Act, 1946, in its application to the State of Maharashtra [(hereinafter in this section referred to as "the said Act"), and the rules and standing orders (including model standing orders) made thereunder from time to time, shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to all establishments wherein fifty or more employees are employed and to which this Act applies, as if they were industrial establishment within the meaning of the said Act.

NOTES
By reason of S.38(b) the provisions of the Industrial Employment (Standing Order) Act, 1946 shall apply to all establishments to which the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act applies as if they were industrial establishments within the meaning of Industrial Employment (Standing Order) Act, 1946.

An appellant, who was employed as stenographer, was suspended on 20.3.78 pending disciplinary enquiry against him. He made an application claiming full back wages. The Labour Court relying upon the provisions of the Industrial Employment (S.O.) Act declared that the appellant was entitled to 50% of his wages for three months from May 1978; 75% of his wages for subsequent three months and full wages for balance period minus lawful deduction. Being dissatisfied with the order the appellant preferred writ petition this was dismissed and the order of the Labour Court was confirmed. The appellant challenged that order in this appeal.

Held: Section 38(B) of the Act does not make any provision for number of employees that an establishment should employ for the satisfaction of the conditions imposed by S.1(3) of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946. By virtue of S.38(B) the provisions of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 are engrafted into the Bombay Shops and Establishment Act, 1946 with only the necessary consequential changes in points of details in so far as they are applicable. Hence, the order made by the Labour Court relying upon the provisions of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 for paying wages during suspension period is legal and valid.

Section 38-B of the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act makes no provision for the number of employees that the establishment (covered by the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act) should employ for the satisfaction of the condition imposed by S.1(3) of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act. The interpretation placed by the learned Single Judge on S.38-B of the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act is perfectly legal. By S.38-B, in effect the provisions of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 are engrafted into the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act, 1948 with only the necessary consequential changes in points of detail in so far as they are applicable.

C.N. Bhaskaran v, J Gannon Dunkerely & Co. & Ors. 1986 I C.L.R. 313.

S.38-B - Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 - S.10-A - Section 38-B of Bombay Shops and Establishments Act, 1948 does not confer on managerial cadre benefits restricted to ‘workmen’ by Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 and Rules framed thereunder. Petitioner, who was Manager of respondent Bank drawing salary of Rs.4,500/- p.m., cannot, therefore, claim subsistence allowance under S.10-A of Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946.

S.38-B - before its amendment in 1986 and Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 - Applicability even if employees are less than 100.

The question decided is that the provisions of Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 in its application to the State of Maharashtra and the Rules and Standing Orders including Model Standing Orders mutatis mutandis apply to all establishments under Shops Act as if they were industrial establishment and that applicability is not restricted to establishments in which 100 or more employees are employed.

Fictionally, when establishments become Industrial Establishments by the thrust of S.38-B of the Shops Act, the Standing Orders issued under the Standing Orders Act, from time to time would apply mutatis mutandis to establishments under the Shops Act. Upto this time the fiction work. But there cannot be fiction over fiction. It cannot be suggested for a moment that shops and establishments on becoming industrial establishments must qualify thence forth to have 100 employees or more. Such an interpretation would destroy not only the purpose of S.38-B but the working of the Shops Act too and the purpose for which it was enacted.

Application of Maternity Benefit Act for women employees in establishment.] Notwithstanding anything contained in the Maternity Benefit Act, 1961 (hereinafter in this section referred to as "the said Act"), the State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that all or any of the

Miscellaneous and Supplemental

62. Maintenance of registers and records and display of notices,- Subject to the general or special orders of the [State Government an employer shall maintain such registers and records and display on the premises of his establishment such notices as may be prescribed. All such registers and records shall be kept on the premises of the establishment to which they relate.

63. Wages for overtime work.-Where an employee in any establishment to which this Act applies is required to work in excess of the limit of hours of work, he shall be entitled, in respect of the overtime work, wages at the rate of twice his ordinary rate of wages.

Explanation. For the purposes of this section the expression "limit of hours of work" shall mean-

(a) in the case of employees in shops and commercial establishments, nine hours in any day and forty-eight hours in any week;
(b) in the case of employees in residential hotels, restaurants, eating houses, theatres or other places of public amusement or entertainment, nine hours in any day; and
(c) in the case of employees in any other establishment, such hours as may be prescribed.

[Provided that, the maximum limit for working overtime shall not exceed three; hours and the employer may, for the purpose of the work beyond the said overtime hours, engage additional number of employees.]

NOTES
The employee of a bakery who was a delivery man and whose work was to deliver bread and loaves prepared by the bakery to its customers, applied under section 63 of the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act, 1948, for payment of overtime wages alleging that he had worked more than forty-eight hours every week in respect of certain wage periods. On the question whether the application was maintainable in view of the fact that under Schedule II, item 8 of the Act, the prohibition contained in section 14 of the Act, prohibiting the employer from making the employee work beyond the limit of work prescribed therein is removed as regards delivery men it was held that if the employee established that he had worked overtime in any particular week, he was entitled to overtime wages as provided in section 63 of the Act.

The limit of work for the purpose of section 14 of the Bombay Shops and Establishments Act, 1948, is entirely different from the limit of work laid down for the purpose of Section 63 of the Act. Whereas the limit of work for the purpose of section 14 is laid down in order to prohibit the employer from requiring an employee to make him work beyond the limit, the limit of work laid down for the purpose of section 63 is purely for the purpose of computation of overtime wages. The Sales Promotion Employees (Conditions of Service) Act, 1976

(No. 11 of 1976)

[25th January, 1976]

(Received the assent of the president on Jan 25, 1976 and published in the Gaz. of India, Ext. pt. II, Sec. 1 dt. 25.1.1976 pp. 77-81.)

NOTES

EFFECTS OF RECENT AMENDMENTS.

History:
The Government of India had enacted Sales Promotion Employees (Conditions of Service) Act, 1976, on the basis of the Report of the Petitions Committee of the Rajya Sabha. Even though the title of the Act indicates that it would cover all persons engaged in the Sales Promotion work of an organization, or in other words, all salesmen, the applicability of the Act has been, so far, confined to the Pharmaceutical Industry. The Petition was made to the Parliament by Medical Representatives’ Organizations, alleging, among other things, large-scale discharge, retrenchment etc. of medical representatives, and that in the absence of any legal protection, as was available to workmen under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, there was no machinery where such cases could be subjected to judicial review. The Petitions Committee after visiting various places made its report to the Parliament. The Act was the result of the said report, and it was enacted during the Emergency period of 1975-1977. For the purpose of coverage, the Act laid down an absolute salary limit of Rs. 750/- per month or Rs. 9,000/- per annum (irrespective of whether it was paid as salary or commission). This salary limit was justified by the then Minister for Labour, Mr. Raghunath Reddi, on the grounds that the Act protected only those who were drawing minimum salary and that those who were in receipt of higher emoluments could themselves look after their interest without Government intervention.

Amendments

The Medical Representatives’ Associations were obviously not satisfied with this limit of Rs. 750/- per month, as majority of the representatives were drawing salaries or emoluments much higher than Rs. 750/- and therefore outside the purview of the Act. They kept on with their pressure on Government and the result is by this amendment the Sales Promotion Employees have been brought on par with the definition of “workman” under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, where no salary/wage limit has been prescribed for coverage of a workman under the said Act. This appears logical in a way, for what is important is not the salary/sage, but the type of work a person is required to perform. Salary limit has been fixed only in the case of persons who are engaged in a supervisory capacity and drawing a salary of less than Rs. 1,600/- per month. This amendment has come into force from May 6, 1987, and therefore any disputes prior to May 6, 1987 will not be governed by the new definition, that is, if a medical representative’s services were terminated prior to May 6, 1987, he cannot successfully raise a dispute about it. There is a very good reason for this view as the Amendment Act 1986, Section 3, which effects amendment to Section 4 of the principal Act specifically mentions “deemed to have been re-numbered w.e.f. 8th day of March, 1976 as sub-section thereof; sub-section (b) of Section 3 of the Amending Act is in the following terms:

“(b) after sub-section (1), as re-numbered, the following sub-section shall be inserted and shall be deemed to have been inserted with effect from 8th day of March 1976,” and the rest of the amending Section 3 deals with earned leave provisions. This retrospective effect thus is limited to Section 4 of the principal Act only and the rest of the provisions shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint – see Section 2 of the Amending Act, 1986; and have in fact appointed May 6, 1987 as such date. Thus, if the intention of the legislature was to give retrospective effect to Amending Section dealing with amendment to Section 2 of the principal Act the legislature would have used similar expressions as used in Amending Section 3 of the Amendment Act of 1986.

How will this new development help the Medical Representatives and how will it affect management’s supervision and control over this class of employees? What are the implications? The following suggest themselves:

It is interesting and important to note that the legislature has given a distinct identity to the Sales Promotion Employees (Conditions of Service) Act, 1976. A similar treatment has been given to working journalists also. At the same time by the exclusion, at least for the time being, of other Sales Promotion Employees in a variety of businesses, and confining it’s application to Medical Representatives in the Pharmaceutical Industry, the Medical Representatives appear to have been given a very special status.

Now under the Industrial Dispute Act the Medical Representatives will be able to:

1. Raise an individual dispute relating to discharge/dismissal/transfer etc. under Section 2-A of the Act in their own right and without any support from other representatives or their Unions or Associations.

2. Form their own Union/Association or even join a Factory Union and raise and pursue collective disputes relating to terms and conditions of service such as salary, allowances of all kinds etc.

3. Under Section 33-C institute proceedings for recovery of dues from the employer.

4. Make use of provisions of unfair labour practices as well as grievance procedure. On the other hand the employer will be obliged to:
   1. Follow procedure under Section 9-A for any change in the existing conditions of service in respect of matters mentioned in Schedule IV which is normally a long drawn out process.

   2. Any disciplinary action especially in respect of termination for any reason whatsoever, can be a subject matter of an Industrial Dispute and therefore, a Labour Court or Tribunal can inquire into cases of discharge/dismissal and where appropriate, even direct reinstatement of a Medical Representative. This also means that a proper disciplinary action procedure must be strictly followed.

NOTE
It should be remembered that any termination of employment except by way of punishment, has been interpreted to mean ‘retrenchment’ as per the decision of the Supreme Court, in the case of Sundermaney v. State Bank of India (1978 I LLJ 478). Therefore, an organization will have to be very careful while terminating the services of a Medical Representative for reasons other than misconduct, as otherwise such termination can be declared ab initio void.

3. If an occasion arises for retrenchment in the category of Medical Representative, requisite permission from the appropriate Government will have to be obtained before the retrenchment can be effected. Such permission is most difficult, if not impossible, to obtain.

The above are only the salient features of the Industrial Disputes Act affecting and enabling the employers and employees respectively, and not exhaustive.

Payment of Bonus Act:
Even though a large number of companies have been treating Medical Representatives or Sales Promotion Employees as covered by the Bonus Act, strictly under the definition of the term “employee”, under the Bonus Act, a Medical Representative or Sales Promotion Employee is not covered, but the coverage now has been expressed without any doubt. If one examines the definition of “workman” and “employee” under the Industrial Disputes Act and Bonus Act, it will be clear that but for some minor changes, the definition is the same, and as Medical Representatives were held to be outside the purview of the Industrial Disputes Act, they could have been justifiably excluded from the Bonus Act, as was done in the case of Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972.

Payment of Gratuity Act:
As the term employee under this Act was similar to the term workman under the Industrial Disputes Act, the Medical Representatives were not treated as covered under the provisions of the Payment of Gratuity Act. Now that the Sales Promotion Employees Act is amended to cover employees irrespective of the wages earned by them, the Gratuity Act will be applicable subject to the provisions relating to the coverage under the Gratuity Act and will be limited to Medical Representatives drawing a salary/wages upto Rs.2,500/- only. As soon as they cross the limit of Rs.2,500/- they will cease to be covered by the Gratuity Act, but if they have put in five or more years of service prior to their crossing the salary limit of Rs.2,500/- per month, for the aforesaid period, they will be entitled to Gratuity under the Payment of Gratuity Act. Till today, a Medical Representative becomes eligible to gratuity on resignation only after 10 years’ of service.

Maternity Benefit Act:
As the female employees have been an exception, no particular notice of the Act need be taken.

The Sales Promotion Employees (Conditions of Service) Rules 1976:
Under these Rules, the obligations are as follows,

Leave Rules
By the amending act, the leave provisions under the Act have been brought into effect from March 8, 1976. Provisions are as follows:

Privilege Leave
1. day for every 11 days’ work. Thus under these provisions, a Medical Representative will be entitled to Privilege Leave of between 22 to 24 days a year. Such leave will be in terms of running days i.e holiday, including weekly holidays, intervening during any leave shall form part of the period of leave. The Rules relating to grant as well as accumulation of Privilege Leave are more or less in consonance with the practice existing in the industry. The encashment of unavailed of Privilege Leave has been limited to 120 days with a further provision, that if the Medical Representative’s services are terminated by way of punishment, he shall not be entitled to encashment of Privilege Leave.
Sick Leave
Described as Medical Leave, provides for not less than one eighteenth of the period of service on half pay. The entitlement of Sick Leave is about 20 days on half pay in a year. An option has been left with the employee to convert Medical Leave on half pay to half the amount of leave on full pay. The Act or the Rules do not make any provision for accumulation of Sick Leave from one year to another, excepting that an employee can claim over a period of service Sick Leave equivalent to one eighteenth of his service. In other words, if an employee has put in 18 years of service, he can claim one year of Sick Leave on half pay or 180 days on full pay. The procedure regarding grant of leave, production of medical certificate have also been framed.

Casual Leave
15 days Casual Leave is required to be given under the new provisions, but there is neither accumulation nor encashment of Casual Leave under the Act. The only enabling provision for the employee is that Casual Leave can be taken in combination with other kinds of leave.

Paid Holidays
The rules provide for 10 paid holidays in a calendar year.

Section 11-A of the Sales Promotion Employee Act provides that where under any agreement of contract of service a Sales Promotion Employee is entitled to benefits in respect of any matters which are more favourable to him than those to which he would be entitled under the Act, the employee shall continue to be entitled to the more favourable benefits in respect of that matter.

The section also provides that the Sales Promotion Employee will not be precluded from entering into an agreement with his employer for granting him rights or privileges in respect of any matters which are more favourable to him than those to which he would be entitled to under the Act. Thus it can safely be said that provided the total quantum of leave is maintained, permutation and combinations can be viable.

Quarantine Leave:
This is a new addition to benefits under any of the labour legislations and it provides that where in consequence of the presence of an infectious disease in the household of a Sales Promotion Employee, his attendance is considered hazardous to the health of other people, the employee concerned may be granted Quarantine Leave upto 30 days, and such leave shall be treated as on duty.

NOTE
As a Medical Representative is working by himself, the question of his attendance being considered hazardous to the health of other people does not normally arise, therefore, to that extent this provision would be innocuous.

Letter of Appointment:
The rules prescribe a form in which an employer is required to issue an appointment letter to the Medical Representative. Item 9 of this form clearly indicates that the Company can have it’s other conditions of service’ and therefore, it is possible to continue to give existing letter of appointment for what is contained under items 1 to 8 are the usual conditions of service such as probation, wages, allowances etc. paid to a Medical Representative.

Records
The rules also require a company to maintain a register of Sales Promotion Employees, service books, register of service books and leave account in respect of a Medical Representative. These will have to be maintained at the Head Office of the Company or wherever the Company has branches at the branch office in respect of Medical Representatives covered by such branch offices. Experience has shown in the past that the Labour Inspectors of the concerned Governments have threatened prosecution for non-maintenance of the provisions relating to the records and therefore, it is advisable to start maintaining such registers. Unlike Factories/Shops Act, there is no provision for giving copies of service book/leave book to the concerned employee.

What Act for Future:
Having noted the legal implications of the effect of amendments to the Sales Promotion Employees (Conditions of Service) Act, 1976, what are the immediate actions required to be taken, in order to be able to effectively deal with this class of employees, in spite of the changed situation? As mentioned earlier, one has to bear in mind that even the legislature has maintained a distinctive character of Sales Promotion Employees and this needs proper attention in formulating policy decisions by the Managements. A few of the following suggest themselves:

1. The distinctive status accorded by the legislature points to the line one should take viz., don’t treat this class on “We” “They” basis, but try to integrate them in the Marketing Organization as a whole, and let there be continuous consultation.

2. It is possible Managements did not consider it necessary to look into grievances, complaints, petitions, requests etc. of the fields staff in the same way as they would do in the case of issues, problems, grievances, brought up by the Union of the factory workers on the basis where can they go? This attitude has to be changed immediately. Again, in order to maintain Management stance, the Field Supervisor was always considered right and the Representative “difficult”? “Union-minded” etc., but there have been quite a few cases when Field Managers have been proved to be wrong, exploiters, and what not? Therefore, what is needed is an inquisitive mind to find out the real facts before making any value judgments/decisions.

3. Training and development with emphasis on human relation skills for the Field Manager is a must and should be done on a continuous basis.

4. Open door policy with free communications where dissent will not be regarded as affront and consultation will precede any change in the existing conditions. Also share information relating not only to valleys, but also the peaks in respect of financial conditions product launches, where we are, there we want to go, etc.

5. Proper motivation of field staff, where apart from monetary benefit a scope for creativity, participation and development of proper professionalism will be given the pride of place.

6. Management by Objectives can be successfully introduced and implemented with this class of employees as they are basically educated, sophisticated, with ability to not only communicate but to influence the decision of the prospect, and thus a key person in the organization.

Lastly, it must be remembered that we have already been overtaken by the sea-change in the environment, but at the same time we have to bear in mind certain basic aspects of this sea-change in order to master the environment. Firstly we must realize that our authority to act is likely to come from below rather than above, and the decision making process will probably rely more and more on consensus to be reached among different interest groups. Secondly, present day employees at various levels are more articulate, more impatient and certainly less intimidated by the job itself. For them, the Company and the boss will not necessarily be always right. Thirdly, most of our decisions will increasingly have to take into account human interest and values, as well as economic and material considerations. All this points to the need to give fresh consideration in here and now situation to all our policies by sitting together by the Chief Executive with the Personnel, Marketing and Sales Management, and developing a new policy, as also ways and means of implementing the same of different levels of the organization, bearing in mind what is stated in (4) above. It is felt that such an attempt alone can be successful, given the determination to succeed by preparing ourselves to face difficult situations arising on the way.

12[Explanations.—For the removal of doubts it is hereby declared that nothing in this sub-section shall prevent the Board from making recommendations for fixation or revision of rates of wages on all-India basis.]
Classification not violative of Arts. 19 (1) (a) and 19 (g). -- In view of the amended definition of the “newspaper establishment” under Sec. 2(d) which came into operation retrospectively from the inception of the Act and the Explanation added to Sec. 10(4) and in view further of the fact that in clubbing the units of the establishment together, the Board cannot be said to have acted contrary to the law laid down by the Supreme Court in *Express Newspaper case*13. The classification of the newspaper establishments on all India basis for the purpose of fixation of wages is not bad in law. Hence it is not violative of the petitioner’s rights under Arts. 19 (1) (a) and 19 (1) (g) of the Constitution14.

Powers and procedure of the Board.—(1) Subject to the provisions contained in sub-section (2), the Board may exercise all or any of the powers which an Industrial Tribunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), exercises for the adjudication of an industrial dispute referred to it and shall, subject to the provisions contained in this Act, and the rules, if any, made thereunder have power to regulate its own procedure.

(2) Any representation made to the Board and any document furnished to it by way of evidence shall be open to inspection on payment of such fee as may be prescribed, by any person interested in the matter.

(3) If, for any reason, a vacancy occurs in the office of Chairman or any other member of the Board, the Central Government shall fill the vacancy by appointing another person thereto in accordance with the provisions of Sec. 9 and any proceeding may be continued before the Board as reconstituted from the stage at which the vacancy occurred.

12. Powers of Central Government to enforce recommendations of the Wage Board.— (1) As soon as may be, after the receipt of the recommendations of the Board, the Central Government shall make an order in terms of the recommendations or subject to such modifications, if any, as it thinks fit, being modifications which, in the opinion of the Central Government, do not affect important alterations in the character of the recommendations.

(2) Notwithstanding any thing contained in sub-section (1), the Central Government may, if it thinks fit, -

(a) Make such modifications in the recommendations, not being modifications of the nature referred to in sub-section (1), as it thinks fit:

Provided that before making any such modifications, the Central Government shall cause notice to be given to all persons likely to be affected thereby in such manner as may be prescribed, and shall take into account any representations which they may make in this behalf in writing; or

(b) refer the recommendations or any part thereof to the Board in which case, the Central Government shall consider its further recommendations and make an order either in terms of the recommendations with such modifications of the nature referred to in sub-section (1) as it thinks fit.
